Job Market Paper

“Effects of Subsidies on Welfare and Market Structure in the U.S. Broadband Industry”

Job Market Paper. Finalist, 2025 Bank of Canada Graduate Student Paper Award.

The paper shows that affordability and deployment subsidies are complements: BEAD primarily relaxes infrastructure constraints in unserved and monopoly markets, while ACP primarily benefits low-income households in already-served markets.

Papers

Working Papers

“Efficient and Debiased Estimation of Dynamic Discrete Choice Models”

Develops orthogonal, debiased estimators for dynamic discrete choice models that stay valid with machine-learning first-stage estimates. [\[SSRN\]](#)

“Target-Population Fragility in Judge IV under Average Monotonicity” with Mohamed Coulibaly

Shows that average-monotonicity assumptions in judge-IV designs can leave the implied target population unstable, complicating interpretation of the estimated effects. [\[Paper\]](#) [\[Appendix\]](#)

Work in Progress

“Fintech Entry and Agent Selection in Mobile Money Markets: Evidence from Senegal”

“Selection on Structural Errors in Moment-Inequality Estimation of Discrete Games” with Mohamed Coulibaly
